Laity for Rev. Charlie Holt

March 21, 2023

To The House of Bishops, House of Deputies and Standing Committee of the Diocese of Florida,

We write respectfully, but with hearts that are broken by what is being done to our Diocese and to us as Episcopalians. We are disturbed by recent events, which appear to include a media blitz in the Episcopal News Service and The Living Church Magazine directed squarely and purposefully at us. We believe that there is an organized and conscious effort to subvert the will of the people of the Episcopal Diocese of Florida.

Our Episcopal Church's tradition and polity include both a great respect for the minority voice and a resolution by majority vote, in which decisions of each diocese should be respected in all but the most extreme circumstances. This mutual respect is essential and the glue which binds us all together.

We have had two elections with the same result: The Reverend Charlie Holt was elected on a clergy majority and a lay super-majority, including winning on the first ballot in a second election. Yet now at least five news articles have been written based on a Court of Review report that was written without ever interviewing the accused parties or allowing them to defend themselves, call witnesses, or respond to their accusers. That report was then leaked to the public before it was even presented to our Diocese. This rush to judgment lacks even the most basic pretense of fairness and is reminiscent of the Star Chamber of our English heritage. The Court of Review decision was one-sided, utilizing the assertions of the objectors and ignoring all evidence contrary to their preferred and shifting narrative.

We acknowledge the very real pain of our sisters and brothers in the LGBTQ+ community of our Diocese. The undertaking of the long and difficult task of listening, and the addressing of this pain has begun within the Diocese even as we write to you. It will be a long process, but in any event must be done by us here and cannot be imposed successfully by strangers from afar. It is our problem; we get it, and we are in the process of fixing it. A national campaign of letters from persons not even in the Diocese attempting to sway the standing committees and bishops is unfair, biased and frankly beneath our Episcopal Church. So is the leaking of the report without responses in contravention of an agreement for balance presentation of the facts. We can do better than this...

We fear that the ever-changing objections to the election are being orchestrated by a small minority of clergy, who are overwhelmingly retired. A leader of the objectors is the Rev. Kurt Dunkle, who was an unsuccessful applicant for bishop in this, his home Diocese as well as an unsuccessful candidate in two previous elections outside of this Diocese. It is particularly unfortunate that he has used his skills as a lawyer, instead of as a priest and has sought to use, in our opinion, the real feelings of the LGBTQ+ community, which do not affect the election, to support his quest to invalidate an election process with which even the Court could not find fault.

The bottom line is that we as a Diocese and the Reverend Holt as an individual listened to the objections raised in the first election. In response the Diocese retained two CPA's, a canon law expert, and an expert in parliamentary procedure to insure the sanctity of the process. In the face of these extraordinary efforts, we face what looks like a nakedly political effort, well-coordinated and aimed at subverting the will of the supermajority of our laity and the majority of our clergy. We, the laity of the Episcopal Diocese of Florida, are losing faith in the process which gives us the right to elect our own bishop. We would think that many others around the country will likewise lose faith in the system if this scheme succeeds. All should see that this sets an awful precedent for future elections, one that jeopardizes the local control that is a hallmark of the Episcopal Church.

With the same humility that twenty years ago moved the Diocese of New Hampshire to ask simply to be honored in their choice of Gene Robinson to be their Bishop, we ask you simply and humbly, to be allowed to choose our own bishop. We have looked into Charlie's heart and believe that he is the agent of God sent to address and begin to heal all of the wounds which now exist in our Diocese, and which have been made worse in this battle. He is from Jacksonville and has "the smell of his sheep". We believe that a misplaced effort to impose a solution other than one with the support of those who elected Charlie, twice, will only be doomed to fail and create bigger problems, for us first and then for all of us in the Church as a whole.

We ask you to trust us.

Faithfully, Your Sisters and Brothers in Christ,
